Provide a trusted environment to raise concerns

MyConcern is designed for organisations to be able to provide easy access for relevant persons with concerns, complaints and whistleblowing matters to a highly secure and confidential reporting system.

MyConcern facilitates efficient and timely reporting of workplace related matters with anonymous submission ability and the confidence of strict data management to authorised personnel only. An essential tool for confidentially managing internally and externally raised concerns with rigour.

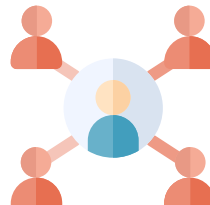

Some of the key capabilities enabled by MyConcern:

robust grievance management legislatively compliant whistleblowing management access to internal and external contact officers confidential information management including contact officer notes access to internal and external investigation teams direct links for internal investigation teams to MyEms regular training for key personnel including contact officers highly secure cloud based access
